EXPOSING SHERIFF BRADSHAW'S

Culture of Corruption

SHOCKING! Click HERE
To hear what a nationally published law-enforcement author says about Sheriff Bradshaw and Palm Beach County leadership

Thanks for reading our anonymous forum where you don't need to register to post. Your Sheriff is a Thief. Not just a garden-variety crooked politician, but an actual thief. Most of the County Commissioners, too, are all corrupt for letting this continue. Don't take our word blindly for it. Read this forum, like how the Sheriff was caught stealing a gun from evidence and how he was taking campaign contributors to a steakhouse using county money. $90,000 for three BBQ grills used by the union, unusing his position to criminally investigate the owner of this site because he doesn't want these facts to be known and so much more. Then look at the supporting documents to prove these facts on our document portal. And don't miss our news sites, Sheriff Bradshaw.com and PalmBeachCorruption.com.

In fact, CLICK HERE to listen to be shocked what nationally-publicized law-enforcement author Jim Donahue says about the Sheriff and the leaders of Palm Beach County.

dog crap and there is no telling how dirty he is. No it isnt a coincidence he is investigating you. Its no coincident he was investigating Jim. You need to be asking why a part time investigator would be investigating you several years after you worked here. The only reasons I can come up with are very scary. Gauger can't go to the regular detective bureau because there is no crime. This is only a major witch hunt by a couple of crooked lawmen (Ric, Gauger and Lewis) as you had already guessed. I got some other info I'll send cause I dont want to post it. you can follow up with what you find in your email.

Gauger have had investigating me for anything they can find.

I figured he was just some poor sap who got stuck doing the evil bidding by Bradshaw and Gauger. Coincidentally, this is the same guy who is investigating Jim Donahue, a guy who was arrested right after he signed up to run against Sheriff Bradshaw.

I say "coincidentally," but I don't believe in coincidences. He is fluent in all languages, including three that only he speaks. Panhandlers give him money. Athletes seek his autograph. He once brought a knife to a gunfight, just to even the odds. He is the finest detective on the planet earth, powered solely by the rays of the yellow sun.

He's the most interesting man in the world. Mosquitos don't bite him, out of respect.

Mark,

Just want to give you a heads up on a few things. First I encourage you to look closely @ what information you are getting from Mr. James Donahue. The warrant for him was filed before he went to pick up his filing packet for sheriff and he had already moved to Daytona and applied for a job at a cop shop there. You should read the PC and the report. It's not rocket science, Mr. Donahue said he was a Federal Agent in order to enter the academy, and he wasn't. That investigation was pushed by FDLE, not the sheriff. He has a lengthy history of fabricating stories and has been arrested in Michigan for impersonating a police officer, all public record. As far as Lewis, he is a careful meticulous investigator. He has no agenda and will not be swayed by Bradshaw or Gauger, he is a straight shooter and well respected in the community. He has been donating time and money to HOMESAFE and several other charities. I know his family did own one of the largest law firms in Washington, Baltimore and I think had offices in California and Europe? Not sure about Europe. I also know for a fact he is not a close personal friend of Gauger. Lewis was asked to look at you by the State Atty. As far as investigating you, I would imagine if he had something on you the warrant would have already been filed, if nothing is there he will not file or put his name on it. ask some of your insiders... Also your post about his ex-wife, the information about her running around was pretty close but you got her name wrong. Only someone very close to her would know her middle name was sue, she does not go by that. She is still in the area and works for a large chemical company in BG. Check it out.....

I have more, will type you later

Ummm... aren't you Kenneth Lewis? Because you speak about "him" in the third person and not the first person. I mean, you sent your email from the PBSO email account and I verified this in the header because the server came from fire1.pbso.org. I don't know why you would do this but I hereby give you permission to be a straight shooter with me; I'm only an asshole to those who aren't. If you doubt this, ask investigator Westcott at the State's Attorney's office. I won't burn you on anything you tell me in confidence unless you do the same first.

Next, regarding your ex-wife, I don't know about her name. Never met her OR you (have I met you?). It was not my post but instead a user's response to my post. I must say, however, I thoroughly enjoyed a few of the responses regarding you being super human. Whoever wrote those was pretty funny and I hope you got a kick out of them rather than getting upset. When those are posted about me, I always get a good chuckle.

You wrote, "Lewis was asked to look at you by the State Atty. As far as investigating you, I would imagine if he had something on you the warrant would have already been filed, if nothing is there he will not file or put his name on it."

Does that mean the investigation is closed? And if so, can I get a copy of what it was? The knowledge of being under criminal investigation puts me in a corner, and I'm not one to go down without a fight, explaining the increase in media and posts.

Thanks

Mark

PS - because you are forthcoming, I don't need to ask anyone who you are and have pulled that thread from my site.

Mark,

Interesting reading, I missed that last one. Was called late yesterday afternoon by a friend of mine and was told about your new thread and later found some of the responses about me quite amusing. I wish I was so gifted. Some of the information in whoever wrote that short story is flattering yet not all of it is true. I have an idea who wrote it, yet that is another story. For obvious reasons I will not contact you through the S.O. e-mail. If you would like to have a dialogue it will have to be thru this email and thru something other than info@pbsotalk.com

By the way, one of our mutual friends tells me you are a scuba diver. been out lately?

Mutual friend? And whom would that be? And no, I haven't been scuba diving in a dog's age, yourself? I've actually taken up flying... that way, I've learned to get myself to the best scuba diving spots. You go anywhere good for diving?

So what's the deal? You guys still investigating me? When the investigation is over, I'd love to hear what the charges were for. My disposition would be a lot nicer if I knew I wasn't being chased by a lynch mob. To be honest, I wish my site wasn't up at all but now it's the principal of the matter, yada yada...

Hell of a read about that Jim guy - seriously? He did all of that?

Mark

PS - This is secure email directly from our encrypted server. I'm not worried on my end. Just an FYI.

Ok, I'm back, sorry if I cut you short, waiting on some friends, we are suppose to go to dinner and they should be here in a few minutes, thus the reason to run to the bank.

Anyway to answer some of your concerns:

No, the case is not closed, yet I see it wrapping up soon. To further answer that, if i was you, I would not lay awake at night and lose any sleep over it. You may get a certified letter from me soon requesting you to come in and give a formal statement, or interview. I would not lose any sleep over that either, I will be able to explain more to you in the interview, if you chose to come in, and I should be able to close this out. It is up to you if you decide to come in, I understand either way, yet again, don't lay awake at night worrying about it. If you chose to come in I will explain what the charge would be, if any. I can tell you that you have already corrected what I was looking at, and the State does not appear to be interested. Again, I would not worry about it. And I can't see the interview lasting more than about 15 minutes if that.

I can't tell you who the mutual acquaintance is yet.

And I understand that you would probably like to shut the site down, quite frankly I would think that as a young man you would have better things to do? As a older man I certainly do. I can only image the time consumption in keeping up with your site. Just a quick thought looking back at some of my life do overs, I would have spent waaaay more time with my kids, they leave so fast, it pulls on your heart, enjoy them while they are young, it is time you can not get back... I will share with you my personal opinion about this whole thing, again just my personal opinion, I have been around the block a few times, subject to controversy in the past myself. I would shut the site down and move on with my life. I have learned that when it comes down to who will stand by you when the going gets tough, you are going to find out who your real friends are. IF, anyone was to go after you civily, IF, I could see you wasting enormous amounts of time and money trying to stand on principal. I would rather spend the money on my kids, not making lawyers rich. I have some very wealthy relatives who are lawyers.

Real quick I would like to say this about Mr. Donahue, He is a very interesting gentleman, when I have more time I don't mind telling you what I learned about him, and please do not get me wrong I would enjoy sitting down as two mature adults and have a conversation with him. My personal opinion is that Mr. Donahue is overall not a bad guy, I think if he would have went the correct way and not taken a short cut he would be a decent patrol officer. I just wish he would tell the truth and stop pretending to be someone he is not. I am impressed with the fact that he is a gifted speaker and very, very, convincing. Maybe one day I will get the opportunity to have a face to face conversation with him. (probably not anytime soon, I would like to retire again, so it will have to wait) Another interesting thing is that we did not know that he had picked up a packet, or at least I did not know, prior to filling for the warrant on him, That was a surprise to me. Not that it matters, yet Mr. Donahue is going to hang his hat on that. What I found really disturbing was that after he was told he could not be a police officer, he moved to Holly Hill, told the Capt. there he was certified and started ride alongs, I can tell you that Capt was pretty mad when he found out he had been de-certified months earlier by the state, then arrested. In his ride-alongs he would wear a vest and a gun. I can't make this stuff up..-Mr. Donahue then turned around and told the Capt it wasn't him that got arrested??? Another point about his claim, Correct me if I am wrong but don't you have to live in the county that you are running for sheriff in? And he moved prior to being picked up on the warrant. Anyway do not want to go on about him. Got to run, friends are here will type you back tomm if i don't go diving.... have a good weekend
